

Tatiana ART graduated as veterinarian in 1984, obtained her PhD thesis in 1991 and was recognized as a specialist in Equine Internal Medicine (ECEIM) since 2003. She is currently professor at the Faculty of Veterinary Medicine at the University of Liege. She is in charge of the teaching of physiology, and is the head of the Equine Sports Medicine Centre where she is responsible for the research and clinical activities. Her main fields of interest are respiration during exercise, exercise physiology and training and chronic respiratory troubles in sports horses.